

Allied is the North American distributor for Hagenburger isostatically pressed products for iron and steel melting and pouring.

Rod and nozzle systems are ideal for foundry pressure pour and continuous casting processes where a precise and controlled pour is essential.

Allied carries Hagenburger's line of alumina-graphite stopper rods and nozzles. This collection is available in several sizes and variations. We can help you select a Hagenburger system to meet your specifications.

Stopper Rod

Nozzle

